Now Available: Giclée Fine Art Reproduction Services!

Stallard Studios proudly announces the addition of Giclée Fine Art Reproduction Services! We now offer fine art digital capture and archival giclée printing on different papers including canvas, watercolor and photo. We use microencapsulated K3 pigments with highest quality color rendition and archivability of up to 100 years.

So, how does it work?

Step One: Scanning

Your artwork is digitally captured using the latest high end digital photography. All scans are captured at high resolution, enabling the artist to reproduce prints to full size. Prints may be resized to the artist's desired output size; from full size to as small as a postage stamp!

Step Two: Color Correction

Following capture, your artwork is digitally corrected to achieve the best matching color possible upon output. Careful attention is attended to regarding color and sharpness. Be assured, your print will rival your original!

Step Three: Printing

First, we start with an 8x10 proof. This proof provides great information on final color and sharpness, while enabling the artist to make decisions to modify or alter colors or edit the image. Edits outside of color matching are subject to post processing fees.

Step Four: Archive

While your captures are archived with our studio for the period of one year, CD's are provided with your scanning service. You may reprint as many copies as you would like at any time from your personal CD archived copy.

Thank you for considering Stallard Studios for your Fine Art Reproduction Services!
